Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 1, 2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 92-95 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification fails to provide any disclosure of first, second and third ablating elements having focal axes, the first, second and third ablating elements being aligned with one another and aligned circumferentially relative to the loop structure. Moreover, the examiner cannot ascertain what is meant by this limitation.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3739

Claims 92-95 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The limitation added which states that the focal axes are aligned with one another and aligned circumferentially relative to the loop structure is confusing. It is not clear how a linear arrangement of focal axes may be created by ablation elements located around the circumference of the loop structure, and the specification fails to describe this limitation. In view of the unclarity of the limitation, the examiner is unable to accurately apply prior art to the amended claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 92-95 have been considered but are not deemed persuasive.

As addressed previously, the examiner is unable to determine the meaning of the limitation added by the amendment of April 1, 2005. As such, the examiner cannot apply a prior art rejection until resolution of the 35 USC 112 first and second paragraph issues. It is noted that the examiner maintains that the prior art teaches all of the previously cited limitations, including having three focused ablating elements located about a loop structure whereby the focal axes of the ablating elements may be directed inwardly of the loop structure.
